Class Poem

By ROBERTA CHASE and WENONA WALDO

Four years have quickly passed;
 Our high school days are o'er.
 Now the higher stations in life
 We go forth to seek and explore.

The knowledge you have taught us,
 And the ways in which to succeed,
 Will forever guide and lead us,
 And direct each thought and deed.

You, Randolph High, gave us honor;
 For this we'll continually strive.
 In the future we'll think often of you,
 And remember our class, fifty-five.

The last strains of music are heard,
 And with hope and pride unfurled,
 We turn our backs on our childhood
 And take our place in the world.

Class History

By PHYLLIS COWDREY, MURLAN COOPER, NANCY HOLMAN

Ah! September, 1943, the day that thirty-nine hopefuls entered the first grade to be embarked on our school journey by Mrs. Norton. Out of these, only twelve remain to see the day of graduation.

In the second grade we set up a post office as it was better than note-writing. Margy learned how to be quiet in reading class with a little help from the rear. Luther Tabor joined us during this year.

In Grade III we greatly improved our health by the use of Mrs. Stokes' health pictures. We gained Nellie Washburn and Jean Scott. Many a boy or girl sat in the corner because of contests which the boys were always originating.

A year later we entered the fourth grade with Miss Walbridge as our teacher. We played games which helped us with our map work and geography. We started saving Maltex box tops so Miss Walbridge could get some bird pictures.

Our teacher in the fifth grade was Mrs. Menard. This was the year for contests. First, in our history class we made miniature floats that were exhibited at Belmain's store. Then we took part in the state art contest. Last, but not least, the contest of breath-holding became exciting when Carlton Menard fainted. We gave our first big party in honor of our teacher. The entertainment was amusing and really became hilarious when Dorrene had to spank Carlton.

In the sixth grade we started our money-making career by selling candy. We gave Jean Scott a "Bon Voyage" party when she left for Japan. This party was a great success except for a few minor details such as Douglas Morrow sticking a pen in her arm.

We learned how to write good letters in the seventh grade and made quite a "Treasure Chest" of famous peoples' signatures and philosophies. We gave plays in joint assemblies with the eighth grade. We had a few unusual visitors in English class when the snakes from our bavarium decided to explore a little. We went to Legislature in the spring and Phyllis Cowdrey took advantage of the season.

In the eighth grade we continued our dramatic attempts with our Christmas play, "A Christmas Carol." Luther Tabor and Douglas Morrow proved their ability as actors in their interpretations of Scrooge and Marley. Everyone struggled through civics class and we finally graduated and started our trek through four years of Senior High School.

At the beginning of the Freshman year our class had grown to fifty-seven. We had fun at our Frosh reception and no one will forget how Dot Palmer proposed to Mr. McQueen (or how he accepted her). Our Carnival play was "Sparks From an Old Flame," and went off well.

As the Sophomore year went by and we got to know each other better, we began to think about our trip to New York. We started having monthly money-raising committees which proved fairly successful. We presented "Heat Lightning" for the Carnival and won second prize. In spite of a little misunderstanding, we had a fine time on our picnic at Cooper's Camp.

During the fall of our Junior year we gave our first Harvest Supper. Around Hallowe'en time we had a social which really made a good profit. Junior Dancing School added to our bank account. Also for New York's finances we gave a dance — such as it was.

Soon the Junior fun was over and we found ourselves in the coveted position of Seniors. Most of our Senior year has been spent gathering enough money and planning for our New York trip; and after it was over, talking about it. We presented "Goodbye, Miss Lizzie Borden" for the Carnival, and at last we won the cup.

As the time for graduation draws nearer, everyone is thinking about all the wonderful times and troubles we've had together. None will ever forget the picnics at Lake Dunmore and Cooper's Camp, or the friendships formed in our school years.

Class Song

Words by MARY CHADWICK and MARJORIE SHAPIRO

Tune: "Somewhere Over the Rainbow"

As we enter our future,
School teachings we praise;
And we'll always remember
Friendships and happy days.

Randolph High, we will miss you
Where'er we stay,
And our hearts will be with you
Although from home we stray.

While we have learned to seek for truth,
We've reaped the memories of youth together.
Our journeys we will now pursue,
Discovering life's treasures, too —
Our dreams we follow.

Now that we have completed
Our high school years,
We must leave them behind us —
A broader field appears.

Class Will

By LENITA PACKARD, JEAN SCOTT, STANLEY DUMONT

We, the 1955 Senior Class of Randolph High School, being (at the moment) in full power of our faculties, do hereby state our last will and testament.

- I, Carolyn Allen, do will my short hair to Roxy Kendall.

 I, Lenita Packard, do will my ability to write letters in study hall to anyone who needs to get caught up.
 I, Dorothy Palmer, do will my cute quips to Linda Chadwick.
 I, Barrie Pierce, do will my happy-go-lucky disposition to Judy Wright.
 I, Jean Scott, do will my naturally curly hair to Janice Pitkin.
 I, Marjorie Shapiro, do will my learned vocabulary to anyone who feels he needs it.
 I, Carolyn Smith, do will my quietness and good manners to Andrew Heath.
 I, Beth Wood, do will my father's car to anyone who thinks he may get it.
 I, Luther Tabor, do will my bowed legs to anyone who likes to ride horses.
 I, Sharon Tabor, do will my ability to get along with people to any hermit who wants it.
 I, Mary Thayer, do will my good nature to anyone who is a "crab."
 I, Cecile Voghell, do will my false tooth to Larry Armstrong.
 I, Wenona Waldo, do will my studious and reserved manner to David Cook.
 I, Janet Washburn, do will my typing ability to anyone who needs it.
 I, Nellie Washburn, do will my folks' car to Martha Jewett.
 To the class advisors, Mrs. Perry and Mr. Parker, we do will our gratitude for the help given us and good wishes for the future.
 To the Juniors, we do will our sophisticated manner.
 To the Sophomores, we do will the Senior Room; we know they'll be happy to get it.
 To the Freshmen, we do will the ability to make money; they'll need it.
 To all the Teachers, we do will "sobbing hankies"; we know they'll miss us.

Now, having used the full power of our faculties in composing this will, we relinquish all claims upon our school to those left after us.

Class Prophecy

By BARRIE PIERCE, EDWARD CONANT and SHARON TABOR

The scene opens in Barrie's living room, the Class of '55 has gathered there for their fifth-year reunion.

The following conversations are overheard:

Ed: Hey, there's Eleanor Barrett — they say that she's working in N. Y. C. as a bookkeeper.

Barrie: Yes, and Mary Chadwick is a traveling secretary for the Red Sox. Roberta Chase is also a secretary and is working at National Life.

Sharon: The other day I was up to Mt. Cushman on a picnic and guess who was there? Murlan Cooper is chief forester there.

Barrie: Margy Shapiro has published her first novel and it was a best seller. Jean Scott has just finished nurse's training and has married a doctor.

Sharon: Dot Palmer is located at Sing Sing as a social worker. Vivian LaPerle is working as a practical nurse in Gifford Memorial Hospital.

Ed: Mary Thayer is married to a wealthy farmer and living happily. Lenita Packard has taken over as dietitian at Gifford Memorial Hospital.

Barrie: Stanley Dumont has taken over as professor at Harvard since Einstein died. Phyllis DuClaw has just re-enlisted in the Navy for ten more years.

Sharon: Marilyn Cady is modeling for Seventeen Magazine. Clayton Carpenter and Raymond Hunt have taken over the Ford Corporation and Janet Washburn is their secretary.

Ed: Donna Camp is married and working part-time in a bank. Phyllis Cowdrey is the Royal Governess for the children of the Queen of England.

Sharon: Arthur Howe has taken Bill Somerville's place as janitor at old R. H. S. Dorrene Norton is an artist and has sold several paintings for a thousand dollars apiece.

Ed: Veronica Owen and her husband are living happily with their four children. Jim Menard is president of V. S. A. and Rosetta Chase is his secretary.

Barrie: Nancy Holman has received a $5,000 scholarship and has gone into journalism. Carlton Menard has received the heavyweight boxing championship for the third year.

Sharon: Bev Mead and husband, "Brownie," are working on the "Cheaper by the Dozen" plan. Sarah Manning is still working at the First National.

Ed: Beth Wood is traveling in Europe with the Texas Cowgirls. Carlton Kellogg is playing Rudolph Valentino in the movies.

Barrie: Did you know Priscilla Chase and Carolyn Smith own their own beauty salon? Carolyn Allen is married and working there part-time.

Ed: Nancy Billings is married and her husband is working at V. S. A. Pat Fortune is working as a cook up there, too.

Sharon: I got a letter from Shirley Bowen and she and "Slip" are farming in the Ozarks now.

Ed: Nellie Washburn Ferris and her husband, Dick, are traveling around the world on his motorcycle. Did you hear that Luther Tabor is running for President of the United States?

Barrie: Wenona Waldo is a cartoonist for Dell Comics and has made millions. Cecile Voghell has finished nurses' training and has established the Voghell Hospital in the Yukon.

Ed: Albert Collins has taken over a parish in the Midwest since becoming a minister.

Barrie: Ed, I hear that you own a thousand-acre farm and two oil wells.

Ed: Yes, I guess I'm pretty lucky. What are you doing, Barrie?

Barrie: Well, last year I took first place in the races at Indianapolis Speedway. What are you doing, Sharon?

Sharon: I'm working as a physical therapist in a crippled children's hospital out West.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Front Row (left to right): Patricia Battles, Wanda Cox, Geraldine Greenwood, Katherine Hodgdon, Julie Milo, Rita Voghell.

Second Row (alternates): Theda Manning, Nancy Holman.

Baseball

Spring baseball, as was the case last year, started out with a large number of boys trying out.

When the season rolled around, marks cut the squad down enough so Mr. Streeter didn't have to do it.

The lineup this year finds Bob Moore and Lee Flint on the mound; Ron Greenwood behind the plate; Don Murray, first base; Ray Hedding, second base; Mike Pierce, short stop; Ron Howard, third base; and the outfield consists of Fred Farrington, Luke Tabor, Phil Hannah, Ray Payette, Clark Campbell, Monte Tabor, Neil Webster, and Andy Heath.

As of now this year's record stands at one win and two losses, but we are looking for a fair showing as the season progresses.

Girls' Basketball

The girls' basketball squad did quite well this year with their new coach, Stan Folsom. Their record was 13 - 3 for the season. The losses were one to Woodstock and two to Williamstown. The girls that will not be with us next year are forwards, Mary Chadwick and Beth Wood; guards, Eleanor Barrett and Sharon Tabor.

Boys' Basketball

The boys again did not have a good season, but did manage to break into the winning column. They showed plenty of spirit under the management of the new coach, Fred Streeter.

The team loses only one senior. The rest of the squad is made up of underclassmen. R. H. S. is looking forward to a winning team next year.

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders would like to thank all those who helped them cheer at pep rallies and at games to support R. H. S. Special "thanks" should go to our alternates for the many times they cheered.

Miss Sylvia French was the coach this year. She was quite helpful in giving tips on timing and technique.

We would also like to thank the student body for the wonderful attendance at the games.

The senior cheerleaders would like to wish the juniors success next year.

Building Patrol

The Building Patrol, which is made up of the senior girls who volunteer to help with school duties, has been very successful during this year. Mrs. Kenny was the advisor, and Mary Chadwick was elected captain.

The girls' duties were to keep order in the halls, to help in the superintendent's and principal's office, to sort mail, and to keep students in single file on the stairways.

The duties of the captain were to see that all the girls had assigned duties for each six weeks and to see that these duties were carried out. If any girl was absent the captain took her place.

In past years the patrol has been only for the top floor, but this year it has been active in all the building. For their services the girls receive a credit toward their Silver "R."

This year the school provided armbands for the girls to wear while on duty.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

DEBATING SQUAD

Seated (left to right): Susan Nichols, Forest Manning, Marjorie Shapiro, Mr. Parker (coach), Veronica Owen, Eleanor Smith, Mary Laffan.

Standing: Clinton Bedell, George Kendall, Sandra Lashway, Neil Webster, Marilyn Brigham, Lewis Chambers, Raymond Payette, Carol Jacques.

Fire Patrol

The Fire Patrol is made up of sixteen members. Everyone has his own duty to attend to and perform. At the sound of the bell these members go to their stations, two at each main entrance, one at each hose stand and two on the landings to keep order on the stairs and try to keep the students going in double file. Originally the fire patrol was made up of just senior boys; but as last year there were not enough boys, four senior girls were added.

Student Council

The Student Council is the governing body of Randolph High and Junior High School.

It is made up of the presidents of each class; two students, a boy and a girl, from the seventh and eighth grades and each class in high school; the president of the Council, usually a senior; Mr. Gaidys; and a faculty advisor, selected by the Council, making nineteen members.

It is the Student Council's duty to assemble at any time to solve problems confronting the student body. It sponsors the annual Carnival plays, sports, Galloping Ghost Gazette, library, and many other activities such as this year's Winter Wonderland Dance, Student Talent Assemblies and Suggestion Box.

Galloping Ghost Gazette

This year the school paper, headed by the seniors and with the assistance of underclassmen, attempted to put out a paper each month. This paper was exchanged with other schools in an effort to keep contact and interest outside our own school. If in the years to come the pages of this Galloping Ghost Gazette will remind us of the many pleasant hours spent in Randolph High School, we shall be content, for then we shall feel assured that our efforts were not in vain.

Dramatics

The first big dramatic production of the year was the Senior Play, "Pickles Becomes a Lady." A large cast was worked in and a very good play was presented.

Next, R. H. S. entered the District One-Act Play Contest with a comedy, "Sugar and Spice." Seniors in the cast were Margie Shapiro and Roberta Chase, with Carol Jacques, Larry Monroe and Lewis Chambers representing the sophomore and freshman classes.

Then came the eventful night of Carnival. The seniors swept up the cup with their tense drama, "Goodbye, Miss Lizzie Borden," done by an all-girl cast.

Second place was taken by the sophomores, who presented a comedy, "Life o' the Party."

Juniors took third with their play about common hill folk, "Blue Beads."

"Miggles," presented by the freshmen, placed fourth. It was a drama, telling the story of a mountain girl who made great sacrifices for Jim, an old man who had befriended her in her youth.

Third Row: Barrie Pierce, Sharon Tabor, Phyllis Cowdrey, Priscilla Chase, Eleanor Smith, Judith Blaisdell, Margaret Battles, Patricia Battles, William Facto, Raymond Brown, Forest Manning, Dorrene Norton, Ann Webster, Evelyn Hedding, Alice Battles, Rebecca Campbell, Roberta Chace.

Debating

This year the Randolph Debating Team participated in twenty-eight contests; in these, the team had seven wins, fifteen losses, and six no decision debates. The topic was: "Resolved, That the Federal Government Should Initiate a Policy of Free Trade Among Nations Friendly to the United States." Competition consisted of teams from New Hampshire and Vermont schools, public as well as private.

Although our affirmative and negative groups did not win a trophy this season, we hope for success in the near future.

Our sincere thanks to Mr. Parker for all he did to help us find material, and for his excellent coaching on a difficult topic.

Band

This year the band participated in the Winooski Festival parade. It also sent representatives to take part in the All-State Festival.

The band participated with South Royalton in two joint band concerts, one in Randolph, the second in South Royalton.

There are about twenty-five members in the band. It will be losing some, so we hope to see many more joining next year.

Orchestra

The Randolph High School Orchestra, directed by Mr. Ellis, has had an excellent year. The activities at which they appeared and played were Senior Play, Randolph High School Chorus and Orchestra Concert, and Carnival Plays.

At the Winooski Valley Festival many members of the orchestra went to represent Randolph.

The orchestra was represented at Vermont All-State Festival by Marjorie Shapiro, flute, and Elizabeth Parker, second violin.

Choir

The Randolph High School Choir, composed of about thirty students from all four classes, meets on Monday night; and it is directed by Miss Mesh. This group gave three concerts at Christmas time, at the East Braintree Church, the Randolph Center Church, and the Masonic Hall. This year the whole choir auditioned at All-State Festival in Burlington.
